On the much larger Millerton, Pine Flat and Isabella lakes, he said that visitor days are annual.

Henry Ward Beecher once said: "Land is part of God's estate on the globe; and when a parcel of ground is deeded to you, and you walk over it, and call it your own, it seems as if you had come into partnership with the original proprietor of the earth" — how apropos to this area.

Progress Dept.: Saw Ivan Peterson, inspector at our new Sierra View hospital location — things were sure a buzzin', construction seems to be moving on schedule, and according to Ivan, the roof should be on by the first of October.

A winner: must run in the family, while Lester Hamilton won the Mayor job, brother Walter won that barbecue outfit at Johnny Baker's gasatorium drawing.

You are an Old Timer if you remember when: the Sonora mule and horse stockade was located on the avenue — there used to be a race track about where the Olive Street Supply is — when Doc. Higgins had the power to issue permits for races — 4-horse chariot races, with the Cornell boys up?

Recreation

ally totalling 500,000 at Miller-ton; 300,000 at Pine Flat and 450,000 at Isabella, with 75 per cent of the persons using Isabella lake for recreational purposes coming from southern California.

Concerning Success reservoir, Henson said that maximum capacity will be 80,000 acre feet, that will cover an area of 2,500 acres, with a length of four miles and a shore line of 21 miles. Minimum pool is expected to be 5,000 acre feet, with an area of 400 acres, a length of 1½ miles and a shore line of five miles.

There will be considerable variation in size of the reservoir, with a fluctuation of 66 feet in vertical distance between maximum and minimum water levels.

The corps of engineers, Henson said, is limited in the amount of recreation facilities that it can supply, since primary work of the engineers is flood control. They do however, make recreation potential surveys, in cooperation with other government agencies; they provide roads, overlooks, information points and sanitary facilities.

Major recreation development, including provisions for a permanent supply of water, must be taken over by an agency such as the state or county; commercial developments, such as boat docks, rental sporting equipment, food concessions and similar items, can be sublet, however, the army engineers set up certain restrictions on the operations.

In order to develop recreation, a permanent, minimum pool must be maintained, Henson said; a 5,000 acre-foot pool is planned at Success, however, some agency other than the engineers must provide this supply of water. At present, the county of Tulare has indicated interest in the project, and it is likely that sufficient water will be purchased out of the Friant Kern canal, then a trade with Tule river water rights holders worked out so that sufficient Tule river water can be held back to supply the minimum pool.

The importance of some agency such as the county taking over on recreation development was emphasized by Henson. He cited the case of Isabella lake, where Kern county is handling the operation, with sub-leases to commercial operators, who have developed recreation facilities that are being widely used. At Pine Flat, however, no agency has assumed recreation responsibility, so the potential there is not being met.

Concerning a name for the Success reservoir, Henson said that as far as the army engineers are concerned, it will be the Success project, however, any name, such as Lake Porterville, could be worked out with the county in development of recreation.

Attending the Lions club meeting with Henson were Ansel J. Myers, project engineer on Success dam, and James C. Chadwick, assistant project engineer, whose headquarters are now at Lindsay.

OUR TOWN

By Gardner (Bud) Wheeler

DRAMA AND THE ARTS, Barn style, seem to need a brisk transfusion in our town. We noticed Al Soares, president of the Barn Theater, rolling his eyes and wrinkling his brow the other day. Though Al is somewhat of an actor, he wasn't on the stage at the moment, so we cleverly figured that these grimaces meant worry. There is nothing wrong with the Barn that a little ready money at the box office wouldn't correct. This would be a sure cure for anaemia. This is not a charity deal. The Barn theater trades a good evening's entertainment for the price of admission.

TWO DOZEN RED ROSES is the current production and features Bob Lally, Helen Campos, Woody McDarmont, Maria Feliz and Ralph Craig, who are in it for the fun of it. ROSES would hardly be classed as Greek tragedy, but it is thoroughly laughable and fun. If you go for the heavy-weight stuff with a message, stay away. If you want some fun, better get over to the Barn this weekend and see our town's answer to Broadway.

THERE WAS DIRT FLYING at Henrahan and Morton this past week as possibly the largest earth carrier in town leveled off the corner for the Little League ball park. Many kibitzers were located on the sidewalks, but didn't interfere too much with progress. The rumbles of the machinery had hardly died before there were rumbles from another direction; namely some of the citizens in the neighborhood. The feeling of the group was that they enjoyed the Little League program, but would enjoy it infinitely more, if the ball park were elsewhere. Whether there can be any legal objection to the location remains to be seen.

WE RECENTLY PASSED THROUGH Los Gatos and had occasion to admire their high school. We were somewhat confused at first glance and thought it was a country club. By association we naturally thought of our local institution which is achieving considerable fame as hodge podge high school. Newcomers almost need a compass or seeing eye dog to make it through the by-ways. We better stick with the compass. It eats less.

NOBODY LIKES TAXES, in spite of their inevitability, but for tangible results, we feel that the local citizenry gets more for its money from school taxes than from most bites. It's on a close level, and we can all get in the act in free style debates. For our money, the up-coming high school tax makes sense, and it will furnish the wherewithal to improve conditions at hodge podge high. Passage would thus insure a chance for debating and a little building on the side. Both progressive steps, indeed.

TOM COE NEW TOPPER FEEDS MANAGER

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 18 — Tom Coe, of Porterville, has been named new manager of the Topper Feed store in Porterville, it was announced this week by Arne Jalonen, of Fresno, president of Topper Feed Mills.

Mr. Coe has been associated with the livestock and poultry feed business in Porterville for 28 years. He replaced Jim Henderson, who will manage a new retail outlet that Topper Feeds is opening.

United States wheat production in 1957 is estimated at 669,080,000 bushels, compared to 734,995,000 last year and a 10-year average of 862,471,000 bushels.

April 1 forecast for California barely was 1,751,000 tons, a record high.

From

Daybell
Nursery

By John

The "old" garden authorities, like Bill Rodgers, recommend a staggered planting of vegetables for home gardeners. This we presumed meant planting some now, some two weeks from now, and so on to produce a continuous crop. However, we talked to some other home gardeners and they say staggered planting doesn't mean that at all.

They claim after attacking a nine by twelve plot with a shovel they stagger over to the neighbors to borrow a rake, stagger around the garage looking for last year's seed, stagger out to water and weed, and eventually stagger down to Daybell's for something to feed the bugs. Thereby giving staggered planting its name.

Either way we have fresh seed, packaged lunches for bugs, sturdy handled rakes and shovels, garden hose, guaranteed not to turn to ice come winter, and more free information than a Russian propaganda agency. All of this on "E" Street, north of olive in the village of Porterville.

With the vegetables planted and fishing season coming up it's time to be buttering up the wife a little. This you can do at small expense by purchasing an Easter flower which we will gift wrap for you. Lilies, Violets, Azaleas, Caladiums, Hydrangeas, and such are guaranteed to get you on the good side of the cook and can be had from a dollar fifty up. Also for mothers-in-law, rich aunts, sick friends, or just plain people. Don't come Easter Sunday 'cause we're closed.

SPRINGVILLE DOES IT AGAIN

Springville has done it again — a small community with great ideas, and the cooperative ability to make the ideas stick.
 We're of course referring to the Springville Rodeo, which this year was turned into a two-day show that brought many of the top cowboys of the nation in for competition.

The rodeo also brought some 6,000 customers, many of whom enjoyed family picnics on the green foothill slopes that surround the Gill arena where the annual Springville show is held.

The rodeo itself was a fine show — good stock supplied by Johnny Jackson; some of the best cowboys; high quality arena acts, and, generally, a feeling of friendliness around and about the arena grounds that is usually missing at events of this kind.

But the most remarkable aspect of the entire Springville rodeo is the fact that a small foothill community can successfully stage a world championship, RCA-approved show, that through the years has, in the total picture, operated at a profit.

Certainly this rodeo is a tribute to the people of Springville, for it shows what a community can do when its organizations and its people get together and really go to work.

And the men who headed this year's rodeo committees are already pointing toward next year. Last night they met to make initial plans to form a Springville Rodeo association in order to do an even better job next year.

So take a tip from us: When the dates for the 1958 Springville rodeo are announced, make a date with your family right then to attend. Just as many people did this year, plan to make the Springville rodeo a real family outing in the most beautiful foothill country in the world.

PEST CONTROL WEATHER REPORT TO BE ISSUED

VISALIA, Apr. 18 — Although the nightly frost warnings will continue through the end of April, commencing on Monday, Apr. 15, the Lindsay office of the U.S. weather bureau will be issuing pest control weather forecasts.

These forecasts issued for those interested in spraying and dusting operation contain such weather information as the maximum temperature expected in Lindsay — not only for the day of issuance, but also the maximum temperature expected for the following day and the day after that; the minimum relative humidity expected on each of those days, plus a general weather forecast.

Also included is a statement on whether or not dew is expected to form the following morning. Only one maximum temperature is forecast for Tulare county. Previous temperature surveys throughout the county have shown that the maximum temperatures differ very little from those observed at Lindsay.

The forecasts will be issued from the Lindsay office shortly before noon, daily, Monday through Saturday. The forecasts will be carried as a public service feature over four valley radio stations.

Radio Station KONG, Visalia, will include the forecast as a part of their 12:15 farm program and also their 12:30 newscasts; Station KRDU, Dinuba, will carry it on their 1:00 p.m. farm news program; Station KOOK, Tulare will carry the forecast on their 12:00 and 12:30 newscasts; and Station KTIP, Porterville will carry it as a special warning at 1:00 p.m.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD MEETING SET FOR COUNTY

VISALIA, Apr. 18 — The California Board of Forestry has accepted an invitation from the Tulare County Range Improvement association to hold its May 16 meeting in Visalia. Keith Manley, Eshom Valley rancher and chairman of the Board's Range Advisory committee, received word of final approval of the date this week.

"We are particularly pleased with the Board's decision", said Tulare County Farm Advisor Ralph L. Worrell, "since the entire agenda will be devoted to consideration of range improvement and foothill water conservation practices. These are both very important agricultural matters in the south San Joaquin Valley and much work has been done on them in this area."

The Visalia city council has offered the use of its chambers in the new city hall for the board of forestry meeting. This will permit ranchers, foresters and other technical people to be in attendance for the deliberations.

Worrell said the board of forestry has also accepted the invitation to attend the Annual Tulare County Range Field day, which will be held Friday, May 17, at the Manley ranch in Eshom valley.

PROJECT TOUR CONDUCTED AT PLEASANT VIEW

By Linda Lindgren

PLEASANT VIEW, April 18 — Two important events of the month for Pleasant View 4-H club were the regular business meeting and a project tour.

At the meeting, under guidance of President Judy Taggard, plans were made for the 4-H Fair in May. Richard Callison gave a report on "The Champ" a model steer, which is large enough to walk through. Members of 4-H clubs all over the county went to Visalia to see this giant model. Several members of this club attended the exhibit.

A report was given by Kathy Wood on her seeing eye dog, Dagmar, who demonstrated execution of commands such as "Sit", "Stay", "Heel" and "Lie". Refreshments were served by

DOYLE COLONY

By George A. Heintz

After being a "dead duck" issue for some two years, talk about extending East Olive to Grevilla is being revived — would certainly relieve a lot of that "merry-go-round" traffic scramble out Orange to E. Date.

Curbs and Sidewalks: have been installed by the Quiram cement brigade at the new city-annexed property at Park and Date.

Noted: Cecil Bright, fondly called "Notso" for short has moved his Trim Shop to the corner of W Avenue and Cecil's auto repair department has been moved to new quarters at Date and B Lane.

Cotton pickers: Wm. "Shorty" Way of Maurer Avenue, has been working on a new type cotton picker — they strap to the hand like one of those orange nippers. "Shorty" expects to patent it. They are from the Southwest if the Hamiltons and Tomiciches. The next meeting will be the election of new officers.

Ten livestock projects of members were visited on the project tour: Richard Callison's Holstein cow and calf; Kathy Wood's dog; Linda and David Lindgren's steers; Sherill and Karol Frasher's steer and sheep; Johnny Taggard's steer and Brenda Santry's horse and sheep.

these expressions are used: "that lil ole" — "I ain't about to" — "I'ma fetchen to talk up a storm" — "where about your kin folk came" — "Too-o-larry Kinty".

Do you remember when: Grandma let you turn the cherry pitter? When suspenders were called gal-luses? When balloon ascensions were a must at Fairs?

I'll bet: the working mothers are glad the youngsters' Easter vacation has run its course — the teachers will grit their teeth, and say, "Did you have a nice vacation, children?"

Speaking of kids: in a recent poll taken at an Eastern prep school it was found that on the average, a father spent only seven and a half minutes a week ALONE with his son! — This might be the key to something or other.

Don't Forget: the Easter sunrise services 5:30 a.m. at Rocky Hill Arena.

That one about: the little wabbit that was found in a Westinghouse refrigerator — when asked what he was doing there, casually replied — "Oh just westing."

Diamond All-Star Awards Announced

BERKELEY, April 18 — Announced this week as California Diamond All-Stars were: Joan R. Clark, Yolo county; Joanne Jensen, Fresno county; David Hansen, Yolo county, and Glenn Krueg, San Joaquin county. These four top 4-H club members are serving as leaders at the 17th annual 4-H All-Star conference in Berkeley this week, and will represent California at the National 4-H conference in Washington, D. C. next June.

WE THE PEOPLE

Statements made in this column do not necessarily reflect the editorial opinion of The Farm Tribune.

Editor, The Farm Tribune:

Plans and arrangements should be made by the Porterville Barn Theater board immediately for the general membership meeting in late May or very early June to elect next year's Board members.

A nominating committee of three or five prominent Portervilians should be appointed right away (with a deadline); 50% of members should be held over on next year's board. Plans and arrangements for the entertainment program for the Hossar Party next September should be made now.

I feel strongly that a concerted effort, by a committee within the board, should be made to contact drama departments in California schools in an effort to secure a director for next year.

I would like to see (at this time) some local news agency or organization undertake the project of finding out if Porterville, as a community, really wants the Barn. If the community wants it to remain a shunned step-child, relegated to the wrong side of the tracks or wants it to take its rightful place as a successful community project contributing to and reflecting the cultural and intellectual growth of the community as a whole.

To say nothing of its recreational and entertainment value, I've seen the Barn contribute more to the cultural, intellectual, and social level of more Porterville people than any other single function or organization, other than the public schools. And it has received the least community recognition and support.

Porterville may depend on an agricultural economy, but it doesn't have to succumb to, and reflect the cultural and intellectual level of the average itinerate farm laborer in this area.

I can't help feel that the Barn should be at least recognized (if not whole-heartedly supported) by such leading civic organizations as: The chamber of commerce, the Junior chamber, the city council, park commission, and the local news agencies.

And you may quote me if you wish.

Fair Director L. N. Carpenter has reported that a "bigger and better" poultry and rabbit show can be expected this year; the usual top-quality fat animals — steers, lambs and barrows — will be shown by 4-H club and Future Farmer exhibitors from the Porterville and Strathmore high school districts.

Livestock entries close Saturday, May 11, with all exhibitors reminded that they must submit their completed entry blanks to Fair Secretary Rolla Bishop by this deadline date.

Planned by fair directors is a "paint up" project prior to opening of the fair, with assistance to be asked from various Porterville-area groups.

General program for the fair will include a pet parade for elementary school youngsters of the community on opening day; an Arabian horse show the first afternoon of the fair, and a Quarter horse show the second afternoon; a junior fat stock sale the final afternoon of the fair; the Canterbelles' junior horse show the final morning; livestock judging the first two days of the fair; home and farm exhibits open throughout the three days and nights of the show, and a grandstand circus, featuring top west coast professional talent, each night of the fair.
